Fifteen years ago, the founders of Future Diagnostics began selling branded OTC and home health products. It was during that time we recognized a need to make better quality products on a private label. Future Diagnostics was created to bring these high-quality products to the market. In the two years since we began, Future Diagnostics has experienced explosive growth and has successfully launched over 100 products in the home health, pharmaceutical, and hospital supply sectors.

Future Diagnostics product lines include, but are not limited to: diabetes supplies, disposable medical supplies, clinic and lab diagnostic tools, and personal-use health items.
Our Team

We have a tight-knit team of 35 employees in the bustling and diverse borough of Brooklyn. Our staff are all highly motivated and creative people who are dedicated to our customers, suppliers, and partners. Future Diagnostics management has over 30 collective years of experience in the medical supply and consumer health field, and we bring that expertise to all of our products and business decisions. The fundamental core values that we subscribe to are: ambition, honesty, respect, initiative, loyalty, and cooperation.
Now and the Future

Future Diagnostics products are exceptional in terms of design, quality, and value. We work with sophisticated and technologically-advanced manufacturing facilities that we have hand-picked to produce the highest quality medical-grade supplies. We are constantly looking for solutions to overlooked needs, missed opportunities, and areas that have room for improvement in the marketplace.

By the end of 2018, we estimate that we will have successfully launched over 350 products with many more on the way.
Emerging Opportunities

By using the extensive knowledge gained from working in the home health field for over 15 years, we have our product lines for sale in over 2000 mom-and-pop and independently-owned stores nationwide.

At Future Diagnostics, we recognize the importance of adaptability and the changing landscape of business. Currently, we are successfully making 40% of our sales in a variety of online channels.
Sales and Growth

Since the outset, we have had a continuous yearly growth of approximately 25% and have exceeded $40 Million in sales, of which Future Diagnostics’ sales make up $10 Million alone. In 2017, we are in line to have another 40% growth in sales.
Our Mission

Future Diagnostics provides medical supplies and home health products that are high quality but affordable. We saw a need in the medical field for superior private label products that bring value to the consumer. At Future Diagnostics, we are always on the lookout for our customers’ needs, and where there are areas for growth. By constantly developing and bettering the products we have available, our mission is to advance the area of home health and improve the quality of life of consumers.
